We have been in business for 40 years and grew to a point where we could no longer continue to operate with the way of thinking and management style that brought us to this point. With increased sales and decreasing profit margins it didn't make sense for us to continue to do business as we have in the past. When we asked George S. May to assist us in the process of re-structuring our organization, the organizational for management project, we quickly realized that we had to change our style of management. We implemented the procedures needed to satisfy the requirements to have a functional organization, and in the process of changing our operation we noticed that in order to involve everyone in the improvement process we needed to solicit their input and started getting process improvement forms from everyone in the organization. We were presented with recommendations with substantial savings. We realize that in order to realize this savings we need to continue to work with the standard procedures.

All in all we are happy with the work and realize that we have the tools we need to complete all the work.

Sincerely,

Anthony L. Sagona
President
